

to beg or to choose:
you decide

AUSTRALASIAN SOCIETY FOR INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY

46TH ANNUAL ASID CONFERENCE
9 – 11 NOVEMBER 2011
Stamford Grand Hotel
Glenelg, South Australia

About the 2011 ASID conference

The 46th annual Australasian Society for Intellectual Disability (ASID) conference will be held at the Stamford Grand Hotel, Glenelg, South Australia 9-11 November 2011.

We anticipate that the Productivity Commission's report on the viability of the National Disability Insurance Scheme will be available in 2011.

Given that the findings of this report may be paradigm shifting in terms of funding models for people with an intellectual disability, the 2011 ASID Conference will ask the question:

How will our community support people with an intellectual disability, their families and carers, in the future?

TO BEG OR TO CHOOSE: YOU DECIDE

Please join us to consider and discuss these issues. Further information on the 2011 ASID Conference will be available on the conference website www.asid.asn.au.

Denice Wharldall
Conference Chair, 46th annual ASID Conference

Please return this portion of the flyer to the conference managers.

Title.....First name

Last name

Position

Organisation

.....

Postal address.....

.....

City.....

State.....Postcode.....

Telephone.....

Fax.....

Email

- I would be interested in attending ASID11
- I would be interested in sponsoring or exhibiting at ASID11
- I would be interested in presenting at ASID11

Destination

ASID11 will be held in the beachside suburb of Glenelg in Adelaide's western suburbs. Glenelg offers a cosmopolitan ambience with a variety of cafes, shopping and entertainment.

The conference venue, the Stamford Grand Hotel, Glenelg, is only 10 minutes to the Airport, or a 25 minute tram ride into the city centre. The Stamford Grand offers onsite accommodation, with a number of alternate accommodation options nearby.

Adelaide is well known as being the gateway to some of Australia's finest wine regions making it an ideal destination for an extended stay.

Sponsorship and exhibition

This conference is a unique event that provides an excellent opportunity for delegates to experience the latest in products, services and techniques.

Your organisation will benefit by promoting brand awareness to more than 500 conference delegates ranging from people with an intellectual disability, family members, clinicians, researchers, disability professionals, management staff and policy makers from a wide variety of disability services around Australia and New Zealand.

ASID11 will enable sponsors and exhibitors to meet an exclusive market of disability support workers and management staff from a wide variety of disability services around Australia and New Zealand and industry professionals with specific interest in intellectual disability.

Presently a conference prospectus is being developed. Should you or your organisation be interested in becoming a sponsor or exhibitor at ASID11, please contact the Conference Managers, Event Planners Australia at sponexasid11@eventplanners.com.au

Program

ASID11 aims to develop an informative and interactive program, discussing the hot topics for the sector in 2011. It is envisaged that workshops will be held in conjunction with plenary and concurrent sessions. The Organising Committee is presently arranging plenary speakers to give broad and cutting edge international and local presentations.

A social program will allow sampling of the delights of Adelaide and its surrounds while showcasing the beautiful beachside setting of Glenelg.

Further information

For further information on the conference, please visit the conference website or email your full contact details to the conference managers, Event Planners Australia.

ASID11
c/o Event Planners Australia
1/41 Osmond Terrace
Norwood SA 5067
ABN: 76 108 781 988
T: (08) 8422 8355 | F: (08) 8422 8399
E: asid11@eventplanners.com.au
W: www.asid.asn.au

